Under the HIPAA Breach Notification Rule, entities regulated under HIPAA must report breaches affecting less than 500 individuals to the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") within sixty days following the end of each calendar year. Therefore, the deadline to report 2024 breaches impacting less than 500 people to HHS is March 2nd, 2025. HHS' Office for Civil Rights maintains an online breach reporting portal which provides instructions on how to submit these reports.

For these breaches affecting less than 500 individuals, HIPAA requires that covered entities maintain a log or other documentation of breaches of unsecured protected health information. The covered entity can report all breaches affecting less than 500 individuals on the same date, but must submit a separate notice for each breach incident to HHS. The covered entity may also report breaches affecting less than 500 individuals at the time they are discovered, as opposed to waiting for year-end. Failure to timely report breaches to HHS may expose your organization to non-compliance penalties. This obligation to report to HHS is in addition to a covered entity's obligation to notify those individuals affected by a breach, which must be done no later than sixty days after the breach is discovered.

These submissions require detailed information concerning the covered entity involved, as well as each breach, including:

- The date the breach occurred;
- The date the breach was discovered;
- The approximate number of individuals affected;
- The type and location of the breach;
- The type of protected health information involved;
- A brief description of the breach;

- Safeguards in place prior to the breach;
- Actions taken in response to the breach; and
- Information about notices provided.

With the deadline fast approaching, covered entities should begin reviewing their breach logs and planning to make the submission in order to ensure compliance. The start of a new year is also a good opportunity to undertake a review of your HIPAA Privacy and Security Policies and organize your HIPAA compliance program for a successful 2025.
