Maintaining Past Relationships

Krieg DeVault values success – for our clients, today's members of our firm, and those who contributed to our success in the past. We are proud of our alumni who have found career and personal satisfaction through new challenges, and we trust that part of our firm remains with them just as we recognize that the firm is stronger today as a result of their contributions.

Many of our current attorneys enjoy ongoing personal and professional relationships with our former Krieg DeVault colleagues not only for enjoyment, but also for very realistic, career development reasons. Please visit the firm's LinkedIn page below to connect with current and past Krieg DeVault attorneys and professionals.
