KRIEG DEVAULT

Corporate Finance

Multinational corporations and emerging growth companies alike depend on Krieg DeVault to structure, negotiate, and secure the debt and equity financing they need to fund their operations, capital investment, and expansion. We have more than 50 experienced business and corporate lawyers in a wide range of finance and related disciplines, who together have facilitated billions of dollars in loans and securities offerings. We advise financial institution clients as lenders and issuers, handling both complex and routine transactions, while on the borrower side we help companies from a wide range of industries secure loans and credit facilities. Our lawyers represent many emerging companies with private placements, public offerings, and venture financing, and have assisted closely-held companies in the initial public offering of their securities. While much of our securities practice involves Indiana-based companies, we also represent national and regional underwriters and issuers of debt and equity issues.
