Long-Time South Bend Litigator, Mark D. Boveri, Joins Krieg DeVault's South Bend / Mishawaka Office

August 19, 2014

South Bend / Mishawaka, IN - Krieg DeVault is pleased to announce that prominent South Bend litigation attorney Mark D. Boveri has joined the firm's South Bend / Mishawaka office as a Partner. Boveri, previously a name partner at Boveri Murphy Rice, LLP in South Bend, brings nearly 30 years of litigation experience to the firm's growing South Bend / Mishawaka office.

Mr. Boveri will be a member of the firm's Litigation Practice Group, now 59 members strong, and will focus his practice in representing the firm's diverse client base in all areas of commercial litigation.

"Mark is a great addition to the Krieg DeVault family," said Stephen A. Studer, Executive Partner of Krieg DeVault's South Bend / Mishawaka office. "His experience, professionalism, and the respect he has earned in the legal community will be a true asset to our client base."

During his career, Boveri has had lead responsibility for client matters in jury and bench trials conducted in the federal and state courts of Indiana, Michigan, and New Mexico, in federal and state appellate courts, before arbitration panels, and in mediations. Mr. Boveri's clients have included national, regional, and local businesses, including manufacturers, developers, insurers, retailers, and construction companies, as well as multiple local governmental offices.

"Mark's track record of outstanding client service speaks for itself," said Michael E. Williams, Managing Partner of Krieg DeVault. "We are fortunate to have a partner with his background to lead our firm's commercial litigation efforts in North Central Indiana."

Prior to joining Krieg DeVault, Mr. Boveri's professional experience also includes serving as Barnes & Thornburg's litigation practice group administrator for its South Bend office. Mr. Boveri is a graduate of Notre Dame Law School and is licensed to practice in Indiana and Michigan.
