

David M. Johnson

Associate

Office: Chicago

djohnson@kdlegal.com

p: 312-800-4011

f: 312-423-9303

David M. Johnson is a dually licensed (Illinois & Indiana) attorney with over a decade of experience in protecting the rights of some of the largest financial institutions in the country. Having handled a broad range of complex issues over the years, Johnson's expertise runs quite the gamut: bankruptcy to bank notes; consumer complaints to compliance; discovery to dismissals; the F.D.C.P.A to the Fair Housing Act; litigation to legal research; and motion practice to mediation. Johnson enjoys diving headfirst into new challenges, crafting sophisticated (but readily communicable) strategies and devising feasible solutions to pertinent problems.

Education

- J.D., summa cum laude, Valparaiso University School of Law, 2011
 - Valparaiso University Law Review Notewriter and Associate Editor, 2009–2011
 - JESSUP: International Moot Court Member, 2009–2010
- Bachelors of Arts in Political Science, Bachelors of Science in Anthropology, cum laude, Loyola University Chicago, 2008

Bar & Court Admissions

- Illinois (2011)
- Indiana (2012)
- Northern & Southern Federal District and Bankruptcy Courts of Indiana (2012)

Publications

- Author, "A Harm? A Foul? A F.D.C.P.A Form and Validation Notice Defect?" 2020