Rhonda Graham joined the firm in 2009 following a career spanning more than ten years in the commercial banking industry, where she worked with various banks in the greater Indianapolis area in their operations and administration functions, including Charter One and KeyBank. Her experience and extensive knowledge of the banking operations side of the loan closing process enables her to help financial institutions' loan officers with the preparation of the requisite closing documents and instruments.

Ms. Graham has extensive experience in reviewing bank credit approvals, drafting loan documents which mirror the credit approval, reviewing title and survey reports, as well as coordinating the entire loan closing process. She has documented, closed and administered many types of loans including asset-based lending, commercial lines of credit and term loans, equipment financing, commercial and residential construction loans, and commercial mortgage loans. Ms. Graham is well-known to the Indianapolis banking community and to title companies, and is able to use these relationships to assist Krieg DeVault's clients with their needs concerning lending and real estate.
