Susan provides coaching and consulting services to health care clients regarding the many requirements that govern their organizational structure, scope of services and day-to-day operations. Susan's 40+ years of experience in critical care nursing, hospital administration, health care consulting and the practice of law enable her to provide "value added" services to her clients that emphasize the importance of prevention, early intervention and "real world" intelligence, time and again.

Susan is a graduate of Madonna University's School of Nursing (BSN), the University of Michigan's School of Public Health (MPH) and the University of South Carolina's School of Law (JD). She has also completed graduate studies at the Royal College of Nursing in London, England. Susan recently completed the Health Care Design and Innovation Program at the University of Minnesota and she is a member and officer on the Board of Directors of the Nursing Institute for Health Care Design.

Susan resides in Minneapolis, Minnesota, is a member of the Minnesota Bar and currently serves on the University of Minnesota faculty where she teaches Health Care Law and Ethics as part of the University's Health Services Management program.
