KRIEG DEVAULT

Litigation and Dispute Resolution

With a team of nearly 30 seasoned litigators and professionals, including former prosecutors, state agency lawyers, in-house counsel, and judicial clerks, Krieg DeVault has a highly-regarded general and commercial litigation practice. We represent individuals, companies, and non-profit organizations in state and federal courts throughout the Midwest and nationwide, including such specialized forums as bankruptcy and tax courts. Our lawyers have extensive experience and a proven track record in preliminary injunction proceedings, administrative hearings, bench and jury trials, arbitrations, mediations, and appeals. We understand that each of our clients has unique business objectives, commercial needs, and real-world challenges that require a personalized litigation approach. We bring to each dispute a depth of trial talent, a broad range of industry knowledge and resources, persuasive analytical skills, effective written and oral advocacy, and sophisticated case management technologies that allow us to formulate integrated legal strategies with our client's best interests in mind. Whether successful resolution takes place in the boardroom, in the courtroom, or somewhere in between, our litigators are dedicated to charting a litigation course that best supports our client's immediate goals and long-term vision.
